20.6 Hearings; Submissions

20.6.1 Hearings

Where required pursuant to the Act, or where determined by the appeal panel to be utilized in conjunction with the determination of an appeal in accordance with the Act, a hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the requirements of the Act. Where a hearing is to be conducted in respect of an appeal, written notice of the date, time and place of the hearing shall be delivered to the appellant and, where applicable, the investigated person, no fewer than thirty days prior to date of the hearing, which notice shall include a statement that the appellant and, where applicable, the investigated person, shall be entitled to appear at the hearing, and that the appellant may choose to attend with or without counsel at the hearing. Hearings shall be conducted in the manner determined by the appeal panel and at all times in accordance with the Act, including without limitation those provisions of section 40 of the Act. Oral submissions at a hearing must not exceed 60 minutes for each party to the appeal.

20.6.2 Written Submissions

Notwithstanding whether a hearing is to be conducted in respect of a matter on appeal, the appellant shall be entitled to deliver written submissions to the appeal panel for consideration in connection with an appeal. In respect of matters where a hearing is to be conducted, written submissions delivered to the appeal panel no later than fifteen days prior to the date of the hearing shall be considered by the appeal panel in respect of such appeal, and the appeal panel shall not be required to accept receipt or consider any written submissions received subsequent to such date. In respect of any matter on appeal for which no hearing is conducted in accordance with the Act, the appellant shall, in accordance with the Act, deliver written submissions for consideration by the appeal panel, provided that the appeal panel shall not be required to accept receipt or consider any written submissions received later than ninety days following the receipt by the registrar of the request for appeal. Written submissions made to the appeal panel must be formatted using at least 12-point font, one-inch margins, and at least 1.5 line spacing, except for quotations, and must not exceed 30 single-sided pages in length.

20.7 Guidelines for Appeal

20.7.1 Principles

The scope of matters considered by the appeal panel on consideration of an appeal shall be limited to the examination of the decision to determine whether there was an error of fact, of law or of procedure in the decision which is the subject of appeal.

20.7.2 Matters for Consideration; Evidence

Appeals are generally restricted to matters actually determined by the registration committee, registrar or investigation committee, as applicable. Where the appeal raises a new point, the appeal panel must assess its ability to fairly decide the matter on the basis of the available information. If the appeal panel is unable to fairly decide the matter without additional information, and if the appeal panel determines it appropriate, the matter should be referred back to the registration committee, registrar or investigation committee, as applicable, to obtain the additional information. Where the appellant brings forward new evidence, the appeal panel may assess whether that new evidence might reasonably impact upon the decision and, if so, whether the matter should be returned to the registration committee, registrar, or investigation committee for reconsideration in light of the new evidence. In cases where the appeal panel refers a matter back to the registration committee, registrar or investigation committee for further investigation, the second decision is to be treated as a new decision and is subject to a right of appeal, all in accordance with the Act.

20.8 Content of Reasons

The appeal panel will provide written notice of the decision and the reasons for its decision in accordance with the requirements of the Act. Reasons for a decision of the appeal panel may address the major points in issue, an explanation as to how the appeal panel reached the decision which it did and detail of the manner in which the appeal panel considered the points raised during the appeal, such that the reasons delivered by the appeal panel are sufficient to permit the parties to have awareness of the result of the appeal and the basis upon which the decision was reached.
